Description

Founded in 2005, Red Mulga is a reputable and competitive standalone enterprise located in the Outback of South Australia. Dedicated to provide our clientele with an experienced workforce comprising project management expertise, skilled technicians, operators, apprentices, and general labour. Our workforce has extensive experience in delivering projects in the civil infrastructure, mechanical and metallurgic sectors including civil works, demolition, soil remediation, building, steel restoration and fabrication, construction and concrete works. The majority of our operations are conducted onsite at BHP Olympic Dam mine, and also in between Adelaide to Roxby downs, utilizing our over hundred and fifty items of plant, including our own transport fleet. We work under a diverse range of operations, which vary from, minor civil contracts for building and maintenance, concrete works, civil projects, and additionally supply labour hire. Recently, Red Mulga acquired Roxby Engineering and Fabrication to create a broader portfolio for our customers, offering them mechanical fabrication, welding, machining and also diesel and petrol mechanical services of heavy and light vehicles. Additionally, Red Mulga has subrogated Olympic Dam Transport providing fleet, storage and logistic services to all our customers.
